BACK TO ANTIOCH OUR furloughs in fifty-six years of service, with a brief release of four months, during which time he made a flying trip to America, is the record of Hunter Corbetts so-called vacations. These cessations from labor in China were little other than change of scene, for the work was pushed in the homeland with much of the same vigor that characterized it abroad. But in the change there was rest. , Hunter Corbett was patriotic to the core. Feelings of loyalty for his native country were accentuated during the time of his absence from America, and upon his return the views of her cities, mountains, valleys, fields, and peaceful homes, were refreshing nectar to his soul. They were also the unfolding of the leaves in Gods great book of the nations, and as a wide-awake student of events and conditions,...
